

Information Exchange System (IES)

Please note that Information Exchange System (IES) is used to exchange technical and trade information between the Transmission System Operator (TSO) and market participants, including: shippers, distribution system operators, final customer or entity interested in connecting to the transmission network operated by the TSO.

IES does not provide information on any tender procedures.

Are you interested in this type of service?

 YES NO